

of
UNION

WHAT COMES NEXT

I see the potential in myself to create stories that I never thought I would be able to before.

For BRANDON ROSAS, a senior and Transfer Coach, storytelling has always been a way to make sense of his world. As a Film and Digital Media major, now he gets to bring those stories to life behind the camera. He loves to break down behind-the-scenes footage from movies to see how they are produced and learn how to appreciate the art of filmmaking. Brandon draws inspiration from the liveliness of campus and the passions and interests of his fellow students. His advice for new students is to remember that life is a series of steps and obstacles that you overcome and grow through. When you grow, you learn from your growth and start to build a better future.

Apply today

Our hisImpus ha

UNG's Dahlonge Campus offers a vibrant student experience. From our caring faculty to our thriving student population, this campus has everything you're looking for in a college experience. Nestled between the picturesque Appalachian Mountain foothills and the lively city of Atlanta, both outdoor adventures and big city thrills are within reach! Dahlonge is also home to our world-class Corps of Cadets, the Boar's Head Brigade, and our highly-competitive NCAA Division II Athletics program. Whatever your aspirations, Dahlonge is a great place to discover what comes next.

UNG's Gainesville Campus provides a strong sense of belonging and community connections. Signature academic programs, like film & digital media, theatre, and environmental and spatial analysis provide unique experiences. Only an hour north of Metro Atlanta, this commuter campus is convenient to city attractions and scenic Lake Lanier. A regional hub for various industries, including healthcare, agriculture, and retail, Gainesville gives you access to diverse job and internship opportunities.

UNG's Cumming Campus offers a tight-knit community that is an

School spirit runs deep in Nighthawk Nation. Whether it's basketball or soccer, softball or rifling, attending a Nighthawks Athletics event is more than just another night on campus. It's an exhilarating experience fueled by the passion and commitment of our athletes. Our NCAA Division II teams feature athletes with a lifetime of dedication to their sport. They work tirelessly to represent themselves

A woman in a white dress is sitting on a thatched roof, with her arms outstretched. The background is a blurred outdoor setting with trees and a building. The image is overlaid with a white geometric frame consisting of a vertical line, a horizontal line, and a diagonal line. The text 'WHERE YOU ARE CAN HELP YOU' is written in yellow, and 'DISCOVER' is written in white outline letters.

WHERE YOU ARE CAN HELP YOU

DISCOVER

When Maria Anifowose, B.A. Communications '22, left her home in Lagos, Nigeria to come to UNG, she dreamed of returning one day to build a school to provide more educational opportunities to the children and young adults there. For Maria, UNG was not just a soft place to land and build essential skills for her success, but a springboard launching her into her future. Maria earned a Master's degree in Applied Linguistics from Georgia State in May 2024 and will begin a doctoral program in Curriculum and Instruction at the University of Houston in Fall 2025.

As a first generation college student, Nataly Morales Villa, B.S. Political Science and Spanish Translation '19, wanted to honor the sacrifices her mom made to raise her in the U.S. She dreamed of being the first in her family to graduate college. After earning a Master's of Education at Harvard, she returned to the Gainesville area and became a bilingual realtor. Nataly is also a motivational speaker, sharing her story of freedom and empowerment through education with students and organizations across the country, as well as an entrepreneur and founder of Nataly MV, LLC and Pedacito de Mèxico.

NATALY MORALES VILLA '19

Bilingual Realtor, Motivational Speaker & Entrepreneur

As a first generation, immigrant college student, Nataly Morales Villa, B.S. Political Science and Spanish Translation '19, wanted to honor the sacrifices her mom made to raise her in the US. She dreamed of being the first in her family to graduate college. After earning a Master's of Education at Harvard, she returned to the Gainesville area and became a bilingual realtor. Nataly is also a motivational speaker, sharing her story of freedom and empowerment through education with students and organizations across the country, as well as an entrepreneur and founder of Nataly MV, LLC and Pedacito de Mèxico.

Management
Marketing
Mathematics
Mathematics/Engineering

LET'S MAKE

UNFORGETTABLE

A degree from UNG can take you far! It can also bring you right back to the nest. Just ask DR. LINDA PURVIS, professor of Avian Biology. After graduating from UNG in 2000, she returned eight years later to be a professor.

"I love the energy and excitement that comes with the first week of each semester." Guiding students through their challenges and celebrating their successes is the reward that keeps Dr. Purvis going. "I love that I get to be a part of their journey into adulthood."

Since her time as a student, many things have changed at UNG. However, UNG's dedication to its students and their success is still the same. Now, she's part of that legacy as she teaches the biologists of the future.

SCAN TO WATCH DR. PURVIS'S INTERVIEW

